

Protected Horseshoe Crabs Set Free in China

On July 21, 2016, 1,000 nationally protected horseshoe crabs (Tachypleus tridentatus), were seized by border police from a boat in Beihai, South China's Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region.

The animals, still alive, were ultimately released back into the wild. (Photo/China Youth Daily)